OXYGEN HELMETS

Received by Mr. Perry Cole,
Assistant State Mine
Inspector

Mr. Perry Cole, Assistant State Mine Inspector, of this city, informs the Advocate man that he has received two complete sets of oxygen helmets and other fixtures for use by rescue parties in event of mine disasters such as gas or dust explosions, or mine fire.

We understand this to be of great benefit to the mining industry and will prove a decided improvement over the old way of rescue work.

Mr. Cole informs us that with the use of the helmet apparatus it is possible for men wearing them to enter the mines in any kind of poisonous gas and remain for two hours before it is necessary to return for a new supply of oxygen.

Often miners have been allowed to die inside the mines from suffocation, when they were in no way injured by the explosion, but only cut off from the outside by the poisonous gases. In such cases they can be reached by rescuers wearing these helmets and brought to the surface in safety.

John T. Hays Wins

His Laurels

[From a Hobart, Okla., Paper]

A dispatch from Guthrie says that the Oklahoma Code is now ready for the printer. This is the end of a great work which started last year. The making of the Oklahoma code has been attended with difficulties, and some disagreeableness. Five prominent Oklahoma lawyers were appointed to do the work, but fell out among themselves. Judge Sam H. Harris of Oklahoma City and Jenn P. Day of Poteau prepared a code separate from the other code commissioners, and presented it to the 1910 legislature. The latter assembly indulged in some heated debating, but nothing else.

The three other commissioners, J. R. Thomas of Muskogee, W. R. Brownlee of Kingfisher and John T. Hays of Hobart have continued at work, and it is now their compilation that is now ready for press. These three commissioners have been working since December 1, 1909 on their own expense and without salary. The legislative appropriation ran out at that date.

Judge Hays has honored both himself and Hobart by being one of the members who prepared the code which has "stuck" and which will be the authority. His wide legal knowledge has enabled him to fill this position with much credit and he has more than made good.

Judge Hays is a fighting Kentucky democrat and licks the woolies every time he gets a chance. He will soon return home.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

KNOX CIRCUIT COURT

A. W. Hopper, admr.
of N. A. Chamberlain, vs.
L. D. Stanfill and
I. P. Stanfill,
Defts.

By virtue of a judgment rendered in the Knox Circuit Court at its September term 1910, in the above styled case, the undersigned Master Commissioner will on Monday, the 24th day of October, 1910, between the hours of 12 o'clock, noon, and 3 o'clock p. m., sell at the front door of the court house in Barbourville, Ky., on a credit of six months, a certain store house and lot, situated in the city of Barbourville, Knox Co., Ky., on the west side of public Square, and bounded as follows:

Beginning on the northeast corner of the lot known as the D. H. Williams store house lot, on the West side of the public square; thence with the public square in a northerly direction 32 feet to the corner of the lot bought by G. W. Vermilion; thence with the Vermilion line to the line of H. H. Steele; thence with the Steele line to the corner of the aforesaid Williams lot; thence with the Williams lot to the beginning and being the same house and lot conveyed to the said L. D. Stanfill by John G. Matthews and wife by deed dated Oct. 3rd, 1902 recorded in the Clerk's office of the Knox County Court in Deed book No. 13 page 245. The above property will be sold to raise the sum of $384.78 and cost amounting to $35.00. The purchaser will be required to give bond with approved security, bearing interest from date of sale and having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained upon said house and lot until paid in full. Given under my hand this 3rd day of Oct., 1910.

J. R. JONES,
Master Com. Knox Circuit Court.

POSTHLETHWAITE

Capt. William Posthlewite, at Jackson, Louisiana, died on the 3rd instant very unexpectedly and it seems without warning. The deceased was 58 years old, unmarried, and was the only brother and last near relative in the South of Mrs. John A. Black, of this city.

Capt. Posthlewite was a riverman, having given his life from the age of 16 to river work. [For many years before his death he was Chief Engineer of one of the largest steamboats plying up and down the great Mississippi from Vicksburg to New Orleans.

Dr. John Posthlewite, whose home was in Madison Parish, La., and who died in the early Sixties, was at the time of his death, one of Louisiana's leading physicians and surgeons and was the father of Capt. Posthlewite and Mrs. Hannah Posthlewite Black.

The remains of Capt. Posthlewite, after a simple and quiet service at Barbourville cemetery, was laid to rest Thursday morning in the Black vault by friends and relatives of the deceased.

For none return from those spirit shores

Who cross with the boatman cold

And pale,

We hear the din of the golden oars

And catch a gleam of the snowy sail

We only know that their barques no more

May sail with us o'er life's tempestuous sea,

Yet somewhere we know, on the

Unseen shore

They watch and beckon and wait for me.

Teachers' Pay Delayed

Superintendent Evans received a letter from the State Treasurer Thursday stating that the school teachers of Knox county would receive their pay on Saturday Oct. 16 instead of the 9th as had been announced before.

V. C. McDonald has been selected as band master of Union College and has begun to instruct the boys in the art of "tooting." He has for the past four or more years been the leader of the Red Men's Band of this city and this position is indeed meritorious, and we bespeak for the students that before the close of the present year, they will make the mountains round about echo with the strains of their music.

PACKING HOUSE

Would Prove Profitable Industry for Barbourville

Joint Stock Company to Operate It

Frequently we have offered suggestions for the betterment of our city, and all of them, we believe, to be practical and if put into effect would prove profitable.

Quite a few of our suggestions have been adopted and not a single one have we ever heard of that has not made a success. The Brick Plant, the Water Works and the Natural Gas Plant are among the industries we have urged since our connection with Barbourville began.

We have urged a canning factory, a laundry and other enterprises that as yet have not materialized, but so long as our people hesitate and refuse to encourage, just so long will we remain in the back-ground as a city.

We now suggest that some of our thrifty business men who have a few hundred dollars to invest, organize themselves into a joint stock company and establish a Packing House here.

This suggestion may seem rather out-of-place to those who have not given the matter any consideration, but it is practical and could be made profitable, besides it would give a home market here for all of the cattle and hogs that the farmers could raise, and instead of having to send everything to the city for a market, we would establish a market right at home and the company could easily find a market for all the surplus that was not consumed by our home people.

This would give employment to quite a number of people and at the same time give both a ready market to the producer and a good profit to the management of the enterprise.

Let's have some of the public spirited citizens get together and establish a packing company and begin business at an early date.

Grand Millinery Display.

Last Monday was fall season opening of Millinery, and Miss Sallie Hoskins felt herself proud in that she put on display one of the finest assortment of hats and trimming in bow a feather, ever shown in Barbourville. All day long a crowd of the gentler sex gathered and thronged Miss Hoskins' shop; married women, young ladies, misses and children thronged the millinery department and viewed with keen interest the varied yet beautiful assortments of fall headgear.

We learn that many selections and purchases were made. We are also told that all church and social functions during the autumn, not a few of the very costly, beautiful and more elaborately finished articles will adorn the heads of Barbourville's beauties. We are not surprised as the attractions and inducements were so strong and vivid that many a purse-string must have gently and involuntarily relaxed its vice-like grip and let tenderly drop among daintiest ribbons and choicest plumes a small shower of U. S. Treasury notes of almost every denomination.

See the ad of T. P. Faulkner & Co. in this issue. If you need anything in the line of home furnishings you can do no better than to trade with them.

Quick Wedding

Mrs. Nan Hoskins, of this city, and Mr. C. C. Comstock, of Corbin, were quietly married at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. R. N. Corbett, in Pineville, last Saturday afternoon, and after receiving the congratulations of the friends present and partaking of a lunch, left on the night train for Knoxville, where they spent a few days attending the Exposition and seeing the sights.

They returned to this city Tuesday morning where they will continue their residence.

This is the third matrimonial venture for the bride, while the groom has been married before also.

Their many friends join in wishing many days of blissful happiness to this couple who have plighted their vows together for the remaining days of life.

Fire at Artemus

Last Tuesday morning at an early hour, the home of Mr. W. R. Narce was discovered to be on fire, presumably caught from a passing freight train.

The fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to check it and the building was a total loss together with a large amount of the household goods and also some very valuable papers.

The building and contents were partly covered by insurance.

Birthday Party.

Master Lewis Hawn gave a birthday party last Wednesday, the event being his third anniversary. Quite a nice and enjoyable time was had by all the little folks present.

Ices and cakes were served and the event was the biggest day in the life of Master Lewis. Those present were: Kenneth Tuggle, Denver Miller, Lillie Dale Tye, Evelyn Black, Beatrice Hughes, Stanley Black, Mary Brown, Sola Gilbert, Helen Sampson, Ethel Miller, Annie Mand Sampson. A number of nice and substantial presents were received.

Death of Mrs. Jas. Walker

Mrs. James Walker died at the family residence in Flat Lick on Sept. 24, after an illness of some months, leaving a husband and seven children besides a wide circle of friends to mourn the loss.

She was a devoted member of the Baptist Church and had been for the past fifteen years, and died in the faith she had professed in her Savior.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved family in the hour of heavy sorrow, but it is not as those who have no hope for they know that she has just gone on before to that better world.

We call attention of our readers to the full page ad this week of the Boston Store, Mr. Efron has a splendid line of clothing, hats and furnishing goods that he proposes to sell at great bargains. Don't fail to attend this big closing out sale and secure some of the bargains while they are going.

One of the boldest thefts last Tuesday night when some one took the putty and springs out of a sash and removed a 22 x 28 window glass in the pressing room of M. L. Burton in the Frank Hawn building and carried away a suit of clothes belonging to Judge James D. Black. No other damage was done and the glass was set carefully to one side and not damaged in any way. Can anyone beat that for nerve?

Republican Ticket.

For Congress.

Hon. Caleb Powers,
OF KNOX COUNTY.

OUR NEXT CONGRESSMAN

There is only four more weeks until the agony will be over with the Democrats who have worked themselves into a fever through the newspaper reports that there might be a possibility of a Democrat going to Congress from the Eleventh Kentucky District. Those who really know the situation understand that Mr. Powers' majority will be larger than the total vote of the Democratic party and yet they permit some of the uninformed enthusiasts to believe that they might win.

The old Eleventh, the greatest Congressional District in the United States, will this time be represented by the greatest man that has ever been honored with that position and we bespeak for him the greatest results. We know the man; we know his ability to do things. We know that he will have as his friends in Washington the ablest and best men there and being already so closely in touch with the "powers that be" he can, and will accomplish more for his constituents than any man in the District could do.

Keep your weather eye on Caleb Powers. He is a young man yet and has a great future before him.

WHO BERTRAM IS

The question has frequently been asked, since the Democratic Convention at Somerset, who is Bertram, the Democratic nominee for Congress?

We have enough facts at hand to give the following information.

Elza Bertram's father was the Democratic candidate for the Legislature in Wayne and Clinton counties in 1890, and was defeated by Sherman Powers, a Republican and distant relative to Hon. Caleb Powers.

Powers was elected and Bertram contested his seat before the Goebel Assembly and Powers was unseated and Bertram seated in his place in order to have a Democratic majority that W. S. Taylor and Caleb Powers and the remainder of the Republican State officers might be successfully robbed.

In that contest, the man Elza Bertram, who is now a candidate against Hon. Caleb Powers, was the attorney for his father and assisted in robbing Sherman Powers of the office to which he had been elected by the people.

Bertram helped to rob Caleb Powers then by assisting to seat a man who was not elected, in the place of one who was, and he is now waging warfare (or thinks he is) against Caleb Powers, but he will not be heard of in the great battle of the ballots that will occur on November the 8th.

REGISTRATION

Registration of the voters of Barbourville last week, while incomplete, yet it shows conclusively that Barbourville is still safely in the hands of the grand old Republican party.

The complete registration in the three precincts showed a total of 277 votes registered and of that number 201 were Republicans; 68 Democrats; 3 Prohibitionists; 8 Independents, and 2 Socialists.

From this indication it seems that the Republicans are still in position to control the municipal affairs of our city for some time to come.

Governor of Kentucky Commends "Back Home" Movement.

Johnson City, Tenn., Oct. 3.—The industrial department of the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio Ry., whose main office is in this city, today received a letter from Governor Wilson of Kentucky strongly commending the railroad's plan of bringing "back home" some of the thousands of young men who have gone from the mountain sections of the Virginias, Kentucky, Tennessee and North Carolina to make their homes in the west. The letter reads, in part, as follows: "It would be a great benefit to Kentucky if we could bring 'back home' even a small percentage of the vast army who have gone out from our Commonwealth to seek their fortunes in the south-west, west, north-west, north and even in the east. There are more Kentuckians and Kentuckians' children in the north-west alone, than in all Kentucky now, and they are leaders and state-builders wherever they go. I sincerely hope that this 'Back Home' plan will touch the chords of memory in those who have gone out from us and will begin a great homecoming movement."

Every effort possible is being made by the industrial department to obtain the addresses of young men who have gone from the states mentioned, in order that it may set before them advantages now offered in their native country. Everyone is asked to send in these lists.

EMPLOYEES' SERVICE CODE

Rules for Conduct of Servants as Prepared by New Orleans Hotel Management.

When the employees of the Monteleone hotel receive their next pay envelope they are going to find enclosed a new service code which the hotel will adopt.

The following extracts from it give an excellent idea of what will be expected of the employees in the future:

"The Hotel Monteleone is operated for the benefit and convenience of its guests.

"Without guests there could be no Hotel Monteleone.

"Never be perky, pungent or fresh. The guest pays your salary as well as mine. He is your immediate benefactor.

"A man may wear a red necktie, a green vest and tan shoes and still be a gentleman."

"The stranger in cowhide boots, broad brim and rusty black hat may be president of a national or a senator from over the ridge.

"You cannot afford to be superior or sullen with any patron of this Hotel. I said so."—New Orleans Monteleone.

THE FAT MAN MOVED OVER

How a "Street-Car Hog" Was Induced to Make Room for Another Passenger.

A timely word softly spoken is more effective than outbursts of profane anger.

A fat man absorbed a whole seat on a car the other morning. There were several passengers standing in the aisle, but the fat man continued the monopoly. Perhaps his breakfast disagreed with him. Perhaps his wife had asked him for money. Anyway, there he sat.

Right beside this selfish fellow two young men were standing.

"I saw a good thing in Life the other day," said one, and his voice was loud and clear.

"Something especially good?" inquired the other.

"Yes. Picture of a big porker with his feet in a trough and underneath it this legend: 'I was born a hog—what's your excuse?' Seems to me it would be a good thing to have the picture printed on cards to hand around."

But by that time the fat man had moved over.

SOLDIER'S CLEVER QUIP.

Not long ago Chaplain John A. Perry of the Tenth Infantry at Fort Benjamin Harrison was entertaining a party of friends, says the Indianapolis Star. Among those present was Lieut. George B. Jones, medical reserve corps, who is one of the surgeons at the post hospital, and who is a recognized wit among the officers of the post. Chaplain Perry owns a piano player. He had been entertaining his guests with the instrument and then he invited Lieutenant Jones to play it. Jones sat down before the instrument and handled it like an expert.

GAVE RIGHT HAND A VACATION

How Man Who Lost Left Leg and Knew Juries Got More Damages Than He Asked.

"Here's a funny thing about the relative value of a man's right and left leg," said the lawyer. "Not long ago I was called upon to conduct the case of a man who had lost his left leg in a railroad accident. He was laid up in the hospital for several weeks. While there the utter uselessness of his right hand caused much comment among the doctors and nurses. Other left-handed patients they had met were able at least to fight flies, but my client's right hand wasn't even fit for that."

"The case came to trial, and the jury awarded him damages $500 in excess of what he had asked for, because, said the foreman, 'he is left handed.'"

"The next day I stumbled on my man in a restaurant and found him stoking up with his right hand. 'That's all right,' said he. 'It isn't a new accomplishment. I could do it all the time. Can use one hand as well as the other, always could, but after I lost my left leg I concluded to let my right hand take a vacation. You see, I know the ways of juries. I cannot follow their reasoning, but I have observed their verdicts, and I have observed that while the right leg is considered of more value to the average man than his left leg, the left leg fetches a boom price if it belongs to a left-handed man. I can't see the connection, but juries can. You heard what that jury of nine said? Well, they always reason that way.'"

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF.

Mrs. Jones—Is Mrs. Newell a good housekeeper?
Mrs. Smith—Well, last week she tried to bake bread in a chafing dish.

COLOR SYMBOLS.

Black typifies grief and death; blue, hope, love of divine works, divine contemplation, piety, sincerity; pale blue, peace, Christian prudence, love of good works, a serene conscience; gold, glory and power; green, faith, gladness, immortality, the resurrection of the just, the gladness of the faithful; pale green, baptism; gray, tribulation; purple, justice, royalty; red, martyrdom for faith, charity, divine love; rose color, martyrdom; scarlet, the fervor and glory of witnesses to the church; silver, chastity and purity; violet, penitence; white, purity, temperance, innocence, chastity and faith.

TRULY "DUST TO DUST."

Burial in coffins in England was not usual until "about 1700 or even later." Whilst the right to interment was not denied, it was questioned whether our forefathers could insist upon the privilege of being inclosed in "a big box, perhaps imperishable," and so laid in the earth. At Farnham about 1680 only fourteen out of fifty-five persons buried were buried in coffins.—Manchester Chronicle.

FIND UNKNOWN VEGETABLES.

Inside the remains of a mammoth found in Siberia were vegetables hitherto unknown to science, evidently relics of the prehistoric animal's food.

RASCALS MAKE PROFIT.

The adulteration of food in France is said to result in a profit of $100,000,000 a year.

TRIUMPH FOR AMERICA.

LET THE HUSBAND REFLECT

Man Was Created Before Woman and Is but a Rough Draft, Says Parolan.

A clever Parisian woman has retorted skillfully to the satirist who prepared a set of commandments for wives, one of which ran in this strain: "Now and then acknowledge gracefully that thy husband knows more about things than thou. After all, thou art not infallible." The woman replied with a set of commandments for husbands, one of which exhorts men as follows: "Woman has a right to have whims; it is the privilege of her sex. Never put her out. She might have hysterics, which would impair her health and cost thee money in doctor's bills." She prepared another, which said: "Remember, good man, that thy wife is thy superior in grace, beauty and refinement. Therefore always worship at her feet." Accordingly this woman contends not for the equality of man and woman, but emphasizes the fact that she is superior to man. She has written another rule for man that says: "If, good man, thou desirest mountain air ask thy wife to come to the seaside; she immediately will propose a holiday in Switzerland." Her last rule says: "Man was created before woman as a preliminary sketch for the masterpiece. Remember, then, O husband, that thou art but a rough draft."

HASN'T THE TIME.

Mrs. Gossipe—You never hear me talking about myself.
Mrs. Blunt—No; you're too busy talking about other people.

FEMININE NERVE.

A rare example of feminine nerve comes from England. Anxious to obtain unique photographs for sale in connection with a church, Miss Lydia Akiens, nineteen, climbed a steep ladder to the top of the spire of St. Mark's church, Leicester, which is more than 200 feet high. Having reached the top, Miss Akiens, camera in hand, coolly walked around the narrow, unprotected staging and snapped some fine views of the town. So awe-inspiring was the sight that many of the crowd below walked away, declaring they could watch her no longer. Finally the intrepid snapper caused tremendous excitement among the onlookers when she climbed another ladder and reached the weather vane, on which she rested for some minutes. Miss Akiens claims the championship as woman steeplejack of the world.

OLD-TIME DELICACIES.

It is well to remember that many plants which once were used as vegetables have been allowed to drop out of our bills of fare. Our forefathers, for instance, sometimes dined off elder top and bird's-foot root, and the early shoots of the hop were considered a great delicacy and were cooked and eaten as asparagus.

Walter Jerrold, in his "Highways and Byways in Kent," recalls a time when Kentish children could "tell of many pleasant hours spent among the hedges in search of the wild hop and of the wholesome suppers made upon the well earned treasure they learned to think their food the better for being rare and costly."—London Chronicle.

NOTHING ELSE.

Friend—So you dined at a way station. What did you have for dinner?
Traveler—Twenty minutes.
